TURNING WATER INTO WINE

AMERICAN JEWELLER JAY STRONGWATER MAKES A RIOTOUS SPLASH WITH HIS DELIGHTFULLY QUIRKY HOME WARE THAT HAVE ALREADY CHARMED THE LIKES OF OPRAH WINFREY AND SIR ELTON JOHN

Renowned American jewellery designer, Jay Strongwater's transition to homeware design transposes his dramatic and whimsical interpretations of nature onto his table-top accessories. Pivoting on his long experience as a jeweller, Strongwater's designs are reminiscent of enlarged butterfly and floral brooches extravagantly applied onto photo frames and vases. Featuring four different ranges: Tuscany, Amore, Fiji and Duchess, each collection draws on the essence of a different facet of nature. While Tuscany extols the warmth and azure skies of the Italian countryside, Fiji showcases the tropical splendour of the island, Amore exemplifies the theme of love with its red and pink hues and heart-shaped cuts while Duchess expounds on an elegant modernity with its silver-tone trimmings and intricate hand-painted flowers and leaves.
